

The Adolescent (Illustrated, with Explanatory Notes, Complete Navigation) (Best Russian Classics Book 9)

This Kindle edition includes over 180 endnotes, explaining all major terms, names, places, allusions, other specific details of the Russian cultural and historical background, mentioned in the novel, and numerous French insertions in the text. Excellent navigation apparatus let you easily use the contents of the book and its referential materials. Illustrations from old postcard collections give the readers a unique opportunity to see St. Petersburg streets and parks as they were at the time of the novel. The Adolescent, also published as The Raw Youth, is a novel by Russian writer Fyodor Dostoyevsky, first published in 1875. The last full length novel before the final masterpiece of The Brothers Karamazov, it is an essential work for understanding Dostoevskys ideas concerning the nature of consciousness and of the self. The novel chronicles the life of 20-year-old intellectual, Arkady Dolgoruky, illegitimate child of the landowner Versilov. A focus of the novel is the recurring conflict between father and son, particularly in ideology, which represents the battles between the conventional old way of thinking in the 1840s and the new nihilistic point of view of the youth of 1860s Russia.
