

From a Paris Balcony

Heartbroken and alone, Boston art curator Sarah West is grieving the recent deaths of her parents and the end of her marriage. Ultrasensible by nature, shes determined to stay the course to get her life back on track. But fate has something else in mind. While cleaning out her fathers closet, she finds a letter from the famous Parisian courtesan Marthe de Florian, dated 1895. The subject? Sarahs great-great-aunt Louisas death. Legend has it Louisa committed suicidebut this letter implies theres more to that story.Determined to learn the truth, Sarah, against her nature, impulsively flies to Paris. There shes drawn into the world of her flatmate, the brilliant artist Laurent Chartier. As she delves deep into the glittering Belle Epoque to unravel the mystery, Sarah finds that her aunts story may offer her exactly what she needs to open up to love again.Following Sarah in the present day and Louisa in the 1890s, this moving novel spans more than a century to tell the stories of two remarkable women.
